Dear Mr. Winterbottom:

I wish to thank you for the copy of your new book "Made In Windsor The Anchor Lamina Way".

It was most kind of you to autograph it for me.

The book itself describes accomplishments which many people will wish they had achieved for themselves; these are made even more vivid for those of us who know you by the fact that the Anchor Lamina/Danly story is one about local people facing local situations, but with worldwide foresight.

We can all learn a great deal from "Made In Windsor".

You and your Anchor Lamina directors invited your workers to partner with you as shareholders. You had faith in your colleagues and chose them well. And you had a universal vision about a business which some people were beginning to write off before you started your own business journey.

It's an exciting story and one which had to be told. Thank you for making it so exciting, and for telling it so well.

Congratulations on your business success and on the continuing and exemplary citizenship of you and Mrs. Winterbottom.

With kindest personal regards,

Sincerely,

Eddie Francis
Mayor

*A great and inspiring story.
